

DWINDLED PRICES
TO DWINDLE STOCK

That time has now come for which wise, money-saving shoppers have been waiting. We have "dwindled prices" so that what remains of our Summer Stock will, during the present week, dwindle to nothingness. It is our plan not to carry goods from one season to another. You know when we say we cut prices, we cut them. We do not carry poor, shoddy stuff in our store. You may rest assured when you buy goods from our establishment that whatever the price may be, the quality is good. After this week there will be but little left of our Summer's stock offered "dwindled prices."

W. P. Littlefield of the Littlefield-Campbell Co., expects to make a three months business trip to old Mexico, where he has some large holdings and on which active development work will be started at once.

George Upthegrove and family left today for a short visit in Walla Walla with Mrs. Upthegrove's parents Dr. and Mrs. Croup.

W. J. Campbell has returned from a trip over the Walla Walla country.

RAILROAD TO CONNECT WITH PAYETTE LAKES

Welser, Idaho.—A crew of Pacific & Idaho Northern surveyors started out Monday from Meadows to make a preliminary survey from Meadows to Payette lakes and down Long valley as far as Roseberry. It can be safely stated that the Pacific & Idaho Northern will in the very near future be extended to Payette lakes, Idaho's most beautiful summer resort that is rapidly growing in popularity, and the extension is certain to reach down Long valley at least as far as Roseberry, Boise county's rapidly growing metropolis.

With the extension of this road to the Payette lakes, there will be 200,000 acres of fine saw timber made tributary to Pacific & Idaho Northern. Half of this saw timber is in large ownership. The smaller timber owners are certain not to hold their standing timber at present prices. Much of this land is more valuable with the timber off than on.

Reach Rich Timber Belt.
It is seen that there is easily $15,000,000 worth of saw timber tributary to the Pacific & Idaho Northern railroad, as soon as the railroad reaches the lakes. At least half of this vast amount of timber is certain to be cut and hauled out in the not distant future. This item alone, of hauling lumber out is seen to be a great resource for the railroad.

There are 50,000 acres of tillable lands in Meadows valley. This amount of tillable land in this valley in time will be considerably increased as the great timber areas extending along both sides of the valley are cut down.

In Long valley there are 250,000 acres of tillable lands. This of course is counting the many pretty little tributary valleys lying along the streams that empty into the Payette river within the boundaries of Long valley.

And when the railroad is extended down the Little Salmon river to Grangeville, as it is planned to do, and which may be added to the certainties of the not distant future, the undeveloped agricultural area of that vicinity will also be opened, adding still more wealth and prestige not only to the Pacific & Idaho Northern, but also to the state of Idaho.

In order to extend the road from Meadows to Payette lakes, it is necessary to raise 1300 feet to the lowest pass in the divide between Meadows and Long valley, and then the road must drop 200 feet to the lakes. In accomplishing this it will require a 2 per cent grade in reaching the summit, and 15 miles of railroad building. In an air line it is about six miles from Meadows to Payette lakes.

PLAN TO PREVENT HAVOC BY FLOODS IN FUTURE

Paris.—Minister of Public Works Millerand is becoming worried by the flood commission's delay to report a plan for the immediate safeguarding of Paris against another overflow of the Seine such as wrought so much havoc early this year.

The commission has a plan, it is true. It proposes to divert the course of the River Marne from Anetie to Epinay, which will result in a heavy fall in the level of the Seine and render further floods practically impossible. The construction of the necessary canal will not only cost an estimated $40,000,000, however, but will take several years, and in the meantime, as M. Millerand remarks, there may be incalculable damage.

So the minister is calling for a number of improvements to be made at once. One thing he wants is an enlargement of the Seine's little arm between Notre Dame and the Place Michel at a cost of $5,000,000, and another is the deepening of the main stream between Suresnes and Boulogne, at an expense of $6,000,000. He also wants several Paris streets elevated and all the quays raised at least 10 feet.

SAILOR RIDES PORPOISE TO BOTTOM OF SEA

New York.—A ride on the back of a big porpoise, according to Charlie Penny, of Flanders, R. I., is just a bit more exciting than selling pink lemonade at a Sunday school picnic. Penny jumped astride of the biggest porpoise ever seen in these waters and took a trip with him to the bottom of the bay and back, and a joy ride around Peconic Bay for near a mile, while the porpoise bucked like a broncho trying to shake off its captor. It was no use, for Penny hung on.

Happy, Happy, Use TIZ

A Marvel for Sore Feet. Acts Right Off.

Sore Feet? Never After Using TIZ—

Good-bye sore feet, swollen feet, sweaty feet, smelly feet, tired feet, aching feet.

Good-bye corns, callouses and bunions and raw spots.

You've never tried anything like TIZ before for your feet. It is different from anything ever before sold.

It acts at once and makes the feet feel remarkably fresh and sore-proof.

TIZ is not a powder. Powders and other foot remedies clog up the pores. TIZ draws out all poisonous excretions which bring on soreness of the feet, and is the only remedy that does. TIZ cleans out every pore and glorifies the feet—your feet.

You'll never limp again or draw up your face in pain, and you'll forget about your corns, bunions and callouses. You'll feel like a new person.

If you don't find all this true after trying a box of TIZ, you can get your money right back.

TIZ is for sale at all druggists at 25 cents per box, or it will be sent you direct if you wish from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Penny and his brothers work for Captain George A. Vail, of Riverhead and Peconic, as commercial pursuers of the bluefish. Of late Captain Vail and his men have been annoyed by a school of 15 or 20 immense porpoises, headed by a ferocious bull porpoise, which dived into the hungry school of bluefish and filled them with such panic that they refused to take bait.

In two power boats, armed with shotguns, Captain Vail and his fishermen started out to round up the porpoises. Several were killed, but the hide of the bull porpoise was tough. Two loads of buckshot were fired into his nose and along his side. The fish jumped at least six feet from the water turned on his side and darted away, but soon came to the surface near the boat to blow again. Blubber and oil were oozing from the shot holes, making him as slippery as a greased pig at a county fair.

"Wait a minute, boys; I'm going to have that fellow," says Charlie Penny as the others were about to give up the prize. Without waiting to remove shoes, clothes or hat he leaped overboard, landed astride the broad back of the fish, twisted his feet around its belly and his arms around its neck and hung on. The fish found a new spark of life when his enemy landed on his upper deck. He gave a snort, dived and shot away like lightning.

A minute or two later, Penny was a long way from the boats when the fish came up to blow. He calmly reached around the porpoise's head with one arm and jammed the big bluefish hook down his blowhole. The fish was then fast. He made another feeble effort to get away, but it was no use.

"Hey, you fellows, come over here and get your fish!" shouted Penny to his fellow hunters.

The fish measured 9 1-2 feet and weighed more than 500 pounds. His body was nearly as large as a flour barrel.

Penny declares that Halley's comet, torpedoes and all of the other fast moving things have nothing on a porpoise when he gets busy. In addition, he says, his exploration of the bottom of Peconic Bay was more extensive than he had ever expected to enjoy.
